Introduction: The Kingdom of the God of Heaven

The great theme of God's kingdom program can be found throughout the Bible, from Genesis to Revelation. It is a theme that unifies all of Scripture. Through it the Bible records the progressive unfolding of a program in which God reveals His sovereign authority. And through it God demonstrates His right to rule through various forms of a kingdom He establishes here on earth, beginning in Genesis and consummating in the r and Lord of lords in the Book of Revelation.

In spite of all that the Scripture has to s faced with a number of different interpreta the nature or purpose of the kingdom of God

What is the kingdom

Some understand the kingdom of God to state, or heaven, where the saints of God who hold this view of the kingdom say it ha earth.

1:14. The Word (Logos; cf. v. 1) became flesh. Christ, the eternal Logos, who is God, came to earth as man. Yet in doing so, He did not merely "appear" like a man; He became one (cf. Phil. 2:5-9). Humanity, in other words, was added to Christ's deity. And yet Christ, in becoming "flesh," did not change; so perhaps the word "became" (egeneto) should be understood as "took to Himself" or "arrived on the scene as."

"Flesh" in this verse means a human nature, not sinfulness or weakness. In the Greek the words lived for a while among us recall God's dwelling with Israel in the Old Testament. The word "lived" is eskēnōsen, from skēnē ("tabernacle"). Much as God's presence was in the tabernacle (Ex. 40:34), so Jesus dwelt among people.

We have seen most naturally implies that the author was an eyewitness. His glory refers to the unique splendor and honor seen in Jesus' life, miracles, death, and resurrection. The one and only Son (monogenous; cf. John 1:18; 3:16, 18; 1 John 4:9) means that Jesus is the Son of God in a sense totally different from a human who believes and becomes a child of God. Jesus' sonship is unique for He is eternal and is of the same essence as the Father. The glorious revelation of God which the Logos displayed was full of grace and truth, that is, it was a gracious and truthful revelation (cf. John 1:17).

1:15. John the Baptist gave a continuing testimony to Jesus. The present tense of the Greek verbs testifies and cries out stresses this. Jesus was younger and began His ministry later than John. But John said that because of His preexistence (and thus His true nature) He ... has surpassed me.
